FOUNDATIONS PROGRAM OVERVIEW

This program will let you hit the ground running, armed with the knowledge and confidence you need to plan and execute effective initiatives for any area in which you may be working. The course is divided into two modules, each focusing on one of the two major phases of public participation, planning and techniques.

- Understand the context of engagement and what motivates people to participate
- Identify decision-making processes and appropriate opportunities for engaging the public
- Select an appropriate level of public participation and establishing clear and achievable objectives
- Develop a detailed public participation plan and integrating communication strategies to ensure success
- Identify evaluation tools to assess program effectiveness.

In addition, the program introduces three categories of techniques:

- Techniques for raising awareness and informing the public, which are essential for engaging under-represented members of society
- Techniques for collecting public input and understanding what the public is trying to communicate
- Techniques for bringing people together in uncertain times.
